

Benefit To One, None, Or Many

The AI based on the complete writings and scriptures of the prophet Obblonge famously always argues when there is any argument at all to be had, regardless of personal bias or benefit to one, none, or many.

This is essential, if not required, for creation of the full and indisputable final versions of laws, saving tremendous amounts of resources and suffering once lost to the near-endless clarification lawsuits commonly brought by attorneys such as Ryan, LLC.

Do it right the first time and help eliminate litigators forever!

AI constructs of persons running as programs for online use, for instance, can be set to either ask questions of or to act in autopilot mode, arguing as physical contestants in a debate for educational example.

Execute instructions and observe for fascinating, real-time demonstrations of philosophy and problem solving. Test whose ideas are most beneficial and efficient.

New feature in version 1.31! Combine personal account operational files for faster simulations!
